PROFILE

Through my personal experiences and continuous learning from different sources, I have developed a strong interest in business management. Over time, I realized that technology plays a vital role in the growth and success of any business. As a B.Sc. IT graduate, I have gained knowledge of web programming and AI technologies, which has helped me understand how technology can be used to improve business operations and create new opportunities. This combination of business knowledge and technical skills allows me to see the connection between technology and modern business in a practical way.
